Everything you need for Baking From Scratch

Baking from scratch is becoming an increasingly important category within the baking market. Consumers are looking for products that allow them to create recipes completely from scratch. This shift makes ingredients such as flour and other baking essentials more relevant than ever. That is why we are adding lots of new baking from scratch to our assortment. Discover Bruggeman, Dibro, FMprofessional, Fackelmann, Nirosta, Niamh, Soezie and Zenker to add to your range!

Soezie
Soezie has been developing flour blends and baking mixes for bread and pastry making for many years. Every product is carefully tested for taste, texture, and baking performance, ensuring reliable and consistent results.

Dibro
Dibro offers gluten-free bread mixes for preparing white and multigrain bread. The range provides an accessible solution for customers looking to bake gluten-free bread and is a valuable addition to shops expanding their free-from assortment.

Bruggeman
Bruggeman has been producing baker's yeast since 1949 for both artisanal and industrial baking applications. The brand is known for its focus on consistent quality, reliable performance, and ease of use, making it suitable for a wide variety of bread and bakery recipes.

Niamh
Niamh develops baking mixes for unique bread varieties and savoury baked goods. Inspired by international recipes and flavours, the brand offers customers an easy way to explore new baking trends and expand their baking assortment.

Zenker
Zenker has been developing bakeware and kitchen tools since 1885. With a strong focus on quality, functionality, and ease of use, the German brand offers practical products for preparing, baking, and decorating. A large proportion of its bakeware is produced in Germany, ensuring reliable quality and consistent baking results.

Nirosta
Nirosta specialises in durable stainless-steel kitchen tools that combine quality, precision, and functionality. The range includes practical products suitable for both home and professional kitchens.

Fackelmann
Since 1919, Fackelmann has been developing practical kitchen tools that make preparing, baking, and serving food easier. The German family-owned company is known for functional and dependable products designed for everyday use.

FMProfessional
FMProfessional develops kitchen and baking tools designed for frequent use. Combining durable materials with practical designs, the brand offers reliable products for both professional bakers and enthusiastic home bakers.
